

The Federal Communications Commission

Dear The Federal Communications Commission,

I do not want to pay more for my telephone service! I urge you to reject a flat fee proposal that would change how contributions are made to the Universal Service Fund. I am concerned that this proposal could make my current service unaffordable.

Under the flat fee proposal you are considering, people who make few long distance calls would pay the same as people or businesses that make many calls. In other words, low-volume and primarily residential customers would bear the same universal service fund burden as a high-volume residential or business customers. This is unfair!

I am a registered Republican, and I am becoming increasingly disturbed with how the current administration is shifting more and more of the tax and fee burden to those with the least means to pay.

I use my wireless phone for safety, security and convenience. I don't want to lose these benefits so that yet another fee is shifted to benefit those in the very top income brackets of the country. They should pay a proportional share of the costs, not get a free ride. I urge you to reject the proposal to move the USF collection system to a flat-fee.

Keep the USF Fair!

Sincerely,

Donald Allison
